

There is no arrangement to solicit the views of the members of the public in relation to the formulation of policies or implementation thereof.